

Materials on this Web site were produced and/or compiled by The Jamaica Information Service (JIS) for the purpose of providing the public with direct access to information about the programs and services offered by the government of Jamaica and information on the country for the Persons in the diaspora. The materials on this site are covered by the provisions of the Copyright Act, by Jamaican laws, policies, regulations and international agreements. Such provisions serve to identify the information source and, in specific instances, to prohibit reproduction of materials without written permission.

Non-commercial Reproduction

Information on this site has been posted with the intent that it be readily available for personal and public non-commercial use and may be reproduced, in part or in whole and by any means, without charge or further permission from JIS. We ask only that:

- Users exercise due diligence in ensuring the accuracy of the materials reproduced and JIS be identified as the source; and
- The reproduction is not represented as an official version of the materials reproduced, nor as having been made, in affiliation with or with the endorsement of JIS.

Commercial Reproduction

Reproduction of multiple copies of materials on this site, in whole or in part, for the purposes of commercial redistribution is prohibited except with written permission from JIS. Through the permission-granting process, JIS helps to ensure that individuals / organizations wishing to reproduce JIS materials for commercial purposes have access to the most accurate, up-to-date versions. To obtain permission to reproduce materials on this site for commercial purposes, please see the contact information below.

Third-party Materials

Some of the materials and graphical elements found on JIS's Web sites are subject to copyrights held by other organizations. This is particularly true of sites that are jointly operated by a Government of Jamaica institution and an external organization as part of a collaborative arrangement. In such cases, some restrictions on the reproduction of materials or graphical elements may apply and it may be necessary to seek permission from the rights holder prior to reproducing the material.
